

CARLOS URRIOLA

President of Manzanillo
International Terminal – Panama, S.A.

Mr. Urriola, age 66, is President for SSA International. In this role, he is responsible for overseeing marketing and customer contracts for all Carrix's international containers operations. He's also responsible for regulatory affairs at Manzanillo International Terminal – Panama as his President.

Mr. Urriola joined MIT in 1995 as its Assistant Vice-President of Marketing. Mr. Urriola, who resides in Panama, was promoted in 1996 to Vice President of Marketing and was responsible for all customer relations for MIT's daily operations. In September of 2003 he was promoted to General Manager of MIT Panama and on February, 2011 was named SVP of Carrix, Inc. and named member of Carrix's Executive Committee. He serves as Executive Vice President of MIT since May 2012. In Feb 2017 he was promoted to President of SSA International and President of Manzanillo International Terminal Panama

Mr. Urriola has served on numerous national and international trade and shipping organizations. He was President of the Maritime Chamber of Commerce of Panama for the period 2001-2002 and was reelected for a second term. He was President of the American Chamber of Commerce of Panama in 2006-2007 and also President of Junior Achievement for the period 2006-2007. From 2006-2009 he was Vice President of the Caribbean Shipping Association. President of the Caribbean Shipping Association in 2009-2012.

Mr Urriola also serves as board member in Chile and Colombia